MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Stalzer's Furniture & Moving

Stalzer's Furniture & Moving has been a staple in the Marshalltown business community for 30 years. In 1982, as a sophomore in high school, owner Jason Stalzer started the company. He would attend school for a few hours in the morning, work at the store in the afternoon, finish his day at school and then head back to work. It was the start of an American dream. In 1984, Jason's father Cliff, joined him in business and three decades later the company is still going strong.

Stalzer's Furniture & Moving has eight employees, offering a wide range of products, including all varieties of household furniture and accessories. In 1986, the company added moving service to their repertoire of offerings. Today they move households all over Iowa and the surrounding states.

When asked for something about the business people may not know, Stalzer replied, "We always try to have the best value and a good selection. We take trade-ins for our building next door. People love looking at unusual items."

Stalzer stays very busy operating the store seven days a week while running four other businesses. However, he does find time to stay involved in the community by donating furniture and beds to those in need and participating in a variety of fundraisers.

Stalzer says the best part about conducting business in Marshalltown is that you get to know people by name, making it a very personable community. He finds owning his own business to be very rewarding and fulfilling.

"Small businesses play a role in building strong communities," Stalzer said. "By employing members of the community, investing in land and buildings, and maintaining strong relationships with customers my business is contributing to a strong Marshalltown."

Stalzer's Furniture & Moving is a proud member of the Marshalltown Area Chamber of Commerce because they feel it is important to be a part of an organization that is helping to grow the community, just as his company is working to grow the community.

Stalzer added "We have always enjoyed Marshalltown and love Iowa. What a great place to raise a family. We hope to be doing this for many more years to come!"

FACES & PLACES

Faces & Places is a monthly feature in the Chamber Digest. Each month this column will feature information about Marshalltown Area Chamber of Commerce members and volunteers. Faces & Places is a great way to utilize your Chamber membership.

Submissions may include grand openings, management changes, employee promotions, moves, expansions, major developments and award recognition. Submissions may include a photograph, if provided in a JPEG format.

Due to space limitations, each item for Faces & Places should be no more than six sentences in length. The editor reserves the right to determine what is newsworthy and included in the column. Items that will not be accepted include: email changes, seminars or special event promotions that would be better addressed through advertising venues.

To submit your news, email lolberding@marshalltown.org and put Faces & Places in the subject line, or mail information to Faces & Places, P.O. Box 1000, Marshalltown, IA 50158. Submissions must be received by the 10th of the month for inclusion in the following month's Chamber Digest.

Information printed in the Faces & Places section is supplied by Chamber member businesses and organizations and is not an endorsement by the Marshalltown Area Chamber of Commerce.

Lead Hazard Control grant

In 2003 the City of Marshalltown was awarded its first Lead Based Paint Hazard Control Grant from the US Department of Housing and Urban Development. Since that time the City has expanded the program jurisdiction to include Hardin, Marshall and Tama County. As the 2008 grant comes to a close this April, the City is proud to announce they have made 467 housing units lead safe and inspected over 600 housing units.

In November 2011, HUD announced the 2012 Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA) for 2012 lead hazard control program funding. An application was submitted to HUD for $2,500,000 to assist 125 households throughout Hardin, Marshall and Tama County. If awarded, all work completed will be in an effort to make housing units lead safe and to address healthy housing issues.

The City would like to thank the participating partners that contribute towards the matching amount of $634,603 through in-kind services and discounted rates. The City of Marshalltown, Marshall County, Tama County and Hardin County are all local government partners. Primary Health Care, Inc. has been a long time partner providing education and outreach to the region and working with families of lead poisoned children. Local discounts by Home Rental Center and Comfort Inn of Marshalltown reduce relocation costs. The Friends of the Marshalltown Public Library have been a grant partner since 2009 offering use of two homes for relocation. Iowa Valley has committed in-kind contribution by offering lead-related training opportunities and coverage by Marshalltown Community Television. There are many other agencies that support the efforts of the programs through day-to-day referrals and education to local residents.

The City anticipates an announcement sometime in the spring regarding projects awarded. For more information contact 641-754-5756.

Times-Republican partners with Monster.com

The Times-Republican and Monster.com, the worldwide leader in internet advertising for job opportunities, have joined in a strategic partnership that will provide industry-leading recruitment advertising for companies seeking employees and state-of-the-art resume submission for job seekers, Mike Schlesinger announced in January.

"The Times-Republican has always been recognized as the most effective advertising source for help wanted ads in this region," Schlesinger said. "And Monster.com has been the leading innovator in connecting people to job opportunities through the internet since the worldwide web's inception."

"In combination, our newspaper will provide the best possible tools to companies seeking employees and to our readers, both in print and on the internet, who might be seeking a job or a better position."

On January 12, 2012, the T-R launched a regional internet site.

The partnership with Monster.com will also extend all local jobs to the worldwide market place. As a result of the new relationship, job seekers will have access to more job opportunities from top local employers and new technology will make it easier to search for, find and apply to these opportunities. There will also be national search options to locate jobs in other parts of the country.

The Times-Republican's classified advertising representative Becky Hatcher said new career tools, such as resume management and career advice from industry experts will be available on jobs.timesrepublican.com

"We will also introduce Monster Match, which will help the job seeker build a skills profile that will be available to employers," said Hatcher.

According to the newspaper, employers will benefit from the partnership by receiving access to several new online solutions, including the Career Ad Network (CAN), and Monster Match, Monster's vast resume database and industry-best talent-matching technology. Monster Match is designed to help companies find the right candidate quickly and easily.

Another benefit for companies will be the unlimited text offered with online job postings that will allow complete descriptions of the jobs and allow for more explicit qualifications for the positions.

Iowa Tourism Office release 2012 Iowa Travel Guide

Iowa's premier show-piece, the 2012 Iowa Travel Guide, is now available to assist travelers planning an Iowa vacation. The guide is free and may be ordered by phone at 800.345.IOWA or from www.traveliowa.com. An online version of the guide is available on the website as well. People may also pick one up at any Iowa Welcome Center.

The four-color, 184-page guide is Iowa's comprehensive trip-planning publication, with listings from more than 700 attractions, 750 hotels, 220 bed and breakfasts and 350 campgrounds. More than 50 listings have been added including the Grand Falls Casino in Larchwood, Historic Park Inn Hotel in Mason City and Sky Tours at YMCA Union Park Camp in Dubuque.

This year's cover features the High Trestle Trail Bridge located near Madrid. Fans of the Iowa Tourism Office on Facebook selected the cover from three options last October. More than 10,000 votes were cast to determine the winning image.

"Despite continued economic challenges, we're finding that people value and demand their vacation time," Shawna Lode, Iowa Tourism Office Manager, said. "Iowa is an ideal vacation destination for visitors from our surrounding states who, for example, are looking for a memorable and affordable getaway that's close to home. When these visitors leave, their economic impact stays behind. The Iowa Travel Guide is also a useful tool for Iowans who want to get out and explore their home state, whether it's for one day or many more. Travel is big business in Iowa."

People can get more information on Iowa travel destinations via the Iowa Tourism Office's Facebook page (www.facebook.com/iowatourism), Twitter account (www.twitter.com/Travel_Iowa) and blog (www.traveliowa.blogspot.com). Travelers can share their Iowa vacation photos in the Travel Iowa Flickr Pool (www.flickr.com/groups/traveliowa).

Tourism in Iowa generates more than $6 billion in expenditures, employs 62,000 people statewide and generates $321 million in state taxes. The Iowa Tourism Office is part of the Iowa Economic Development Authority. For more information about Iowa tourism, visit www.traveliowa.com, call 800.345.IOWA or stop at any Iowa Welcome Center.

Iowa Wine and Beer Launches Android App

Finding Iowa wineries and breweries just got easier with the launch of the free Iowa Wine and Beer App available for Android-powered products.

An enhanced version of the popular print directory, the app includes listings for all 100 wineries and breweries, maps, amenities and photos. The map feature allows users to see which location is closest to them and get directions.

"We had nearly 2000 downloads of the app when we launched it for Apple products in the spring," said Colleen Murphy of the Iowa Wine and Beer Promotion Board. "But we also heard from Droid users who wanted it for their devices. We listened, and now the same great information on Iowa's 100 wineries and breweries is available for them as well."

The app is available for free from the Android Market and in the Apple App Store. The traditional Iowa Wine and Beer Directory is available at any Iowa Welcome Center, at any of the included wineries or breweries or for order online at www.iowawineandbeer.com.

An events calendar and detailed listings for each winery and brewery can be found on www.iowawineandbeer.com.

Iowa Wine and Beer is also on Twitter (www.twitter.com/IowaWineandBeer) and Facebook (www.facebook.com/IAWineandBeer).

The directory is produced by the Iowa Wine and Beer Promotion Board, an organization created in 1986 to promote the state's wine and beer making industries. Find more at www.iowawineandbeer.com.

Olberding promoted to Vice President

Chamber President Ken Anderson announced that Lynn Olberding has been promoted to Vice President effective January 1, 2012.

"This promotion is a reflection of the confidence we have in Lynn's abilities as she accepts more responsibility in carrying out the Chamber mission," Anderson said.

Olberding joined the Chamber in June of 2007 as the Director of Membership and Marketing. In addition to her membership and marketing duties, Lynn has been a key part of the Marshalltown Young Professionals. She has held positions on several state-wide boards and committees including the Young Professionals of Iowa Board of Directions, Iowa Association of Business and Industry Foundation Board of Directions, Leadership Iowa Board of Governors, and ABI Foundation Marketing committee. She served as YPIowa President in 2010. Lynn completed the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's Institute for Organization Management in 2011 receiving the professional IOM designation at that time, and she was a member of the Leadership Iowa class of 2009/2010.

As the Vice President she will have more direct management responsibilities for several large upcoming projects, including the Washington D.C. Summit and Chamber's Total Resource Campaign.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Helping businesses bring jobs home

A growing number of American businesses are bringing production facilities back to the U.S. from overseas. Recent studies show that “on-shoring” is likely to increase over the next several years due to a number of factors, such as the need for skilled labor, productivity of the U.S. workforce, stronger quality controls, rising transportation costs and stronger entrepreneurship and innovation.

The Small Business Administration has developed an International Trade Loan (ITL) program that provides small businesses with capital to finance their fixed assets, including real estate and facilities and working capital. This program offers private lenders SBA’s highest loan guarantee of 90% in order to incentivize lending to small businesses poised for growth.

Small businesses may use the ITL program to “on-shore” or “in-source” in one of two ways:

1) American small businesses that currently manufacture products abroad, but want to relocate production to the U.S. and then export those products may use the program. These businesses may want to relocate to the U.S. to take advantage of increased labor productivity, proximity to raw materials, quality control, re-linking their supply chain or other factors. Small businesses would qualify even if they intend to sell just one product abroad.

2) American small businesses which currently manufacture abroad, but sell to the U.S. market, can take advantage of the loan program. These businesses must demonstrate an adverse impact to their business due to import competition, substantiated either by a narrative explanation and the company’s financial statements or by a finding of economic injury issued by the International Trade Commission or the U.S Department of Commerce.

If you are considering “on-shoring” and are uncertain about qualifying for the loan program, contact MEDIC. We can help you determine if you might qualify, help you understand the requirements, help you navigate through the process and hook you up with an SBA-participating lender.

Meet MYP Member Sarah Pickett

Employer: Emerson Process Management - Fisher

Family: Husband Greg Pickett, K-12 Media Specialist at Baxter Community Schools

Hometown: Rural Laurel, Iowa area – I currently live in State Center

What does your job entail? I am the Human Resource Generalist for about 350 employees, co-ops and contractors. This includes employee relations, recruitment and employment, performance management, salary and benefits administration, training and development, and special projects, among other things. I also administer the International Assignment function for Fisher.

How long have you been employed at your current employer? I have been with Emerson Process Management for about 5.5 years. I have been in my current role since August 2011.

What was your first job? I had an excellent first job at Sports Page.

What's the last book you read: "The Girl Who Kicked the Hornet's Nest" by Stieg Larsson

Leadership is... Following through and doing what you say you will do.

Why are you involved in MYP? I joined to network with other professionals and find additional ways to be involved in the Marshalltown area. What other community organization/s are you involved in? I am a member of First Baptist Church and am the Team Recruitment Chairperson for the 2012 Relay for Life of Marshall County Committee.

What's one of the best things about living/working in Marshalltown? This year I really enjoyed the downtown Farmer's Market.

What's something about you most people don't know? I went on a 2-week study abroad in The Netherlands and Germany when I was in graduate school at Iowa State, which provided me a first-hand look at European culture and how business operates outside the U.S. I loved every minute of the trip!

Favorite vacation spot: Florida - but someday, I'd love to go back to Europe with my husband!

Why should employers encourage employees to join MYP? MYP allows for employees to become more connected to the community, and allows for leadership experiences they may not have otherwise. Employees also get the great benefit of meeting other professionals outside of work and developing friendships.
