Community marketing moves full speed ahead

The Chamber is excited for current and ongoing projects that are stepping up the game as far as marketing our community.

Be on the lookout for our new “This is Marshalltown” video, which spotlights several businesses, public art, recreational activities and pride in Marshalltown.

This is just a portion of a current regional marketing plan that includes social media posts and visits from travel bloggers to Marshalltown.

"It has been exciting to work with outside marketing professionals in helping spread positive messages about Marshalltown," said Tourism Director Andrew Potter.

We are also closing in on the completion of the new livability guide, a magazine in both print and digital that will help us spread the word about Marshalltown being a great place to live, work, learn and play.

Now, is where you come in. If you see positive messages about Marshalltown either from the Chamber or other entities, feel free to share them on your own social media.

We know social media can sometimes be a place for negativity, but it doesn't have to be if we decide to share the positive attributes of our area. We all can benefit from more positive messages being shared about our community.

Iowa SBDC addresses Cybersecurity

Greetings Marshalltown Chamber members! Let's talk about cybersecurity.

Cybersecurity is an important topic for small business owners to learn about and embrace, even when we are convinced that our digital presence is negligible, and cannot even fathom who would want to take the time to disrupt our "small town Iowa" small business. True, our businesses may not be on the radar of international hackers. Our businesses may, however, be on the radar of a disgruntled employee, dissatisfied client, or the kid down the block, who is honing hacking skills for fun. We may also shy away from the topic because it is "one more thing," in an already overflowing day, week or month. Fortunately, there are resources available to simplify the learning, increase our knowledge about cybersecurity and provide us with some steps for action.

First, let's explore some ways that cyber attacks regularly impact small businesses. For instance, phishing emails can bait unaware business owners and employees to disclose information or respond to requests that are illegitimate. Or, we may unknowingly click on a link that looks official, only to discover that the link unleashed a ransomware attack on our system, and has locked us out until payment has been made.

Once we have determined that cyber risk is real, now what do we do? The National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) has created a website dedicated to small business cybersecurity issues (nist.gov/itl/smallbusinesscyber). NIST has even developed a quick start guide which provides a clear path for small businesses owners who are ready to implement some cybersecurity measures. Iowa SBDC, also, offers a series of on-demand cybersecurity webinars online at iowasbdc.org.

One final thought...make a date with your insurance agent and learn about the cybersecurity coverage that your business insurance policy may or may not offer. The information may be helpful as you explore what a cybersecurity plan for your business should look like.

ISU SBDC is here to work with you. Our services are free and confidential. How can we help? Let's get a conversation going. We can be reached through a click or a call. The fastest method to connect with us is to visit iowasbdc.org, select the request counseling button, complete the electronic form and choose Iowa State as your center of choice. Call us at 515-296-7828 or, ask a Chamber official how to reach us and they will point you in our direction.

Enjoy today-Sheri Benson, CBA, CGBP, ISU SBDC business counselor

Chamber member benefits-Tip #1

Did you know a benefit to Chamber membership is that you are able to "brag" about your business or organization in The Digest?

Grand openings, management changes, employee promotions, moves, organization name changes, expansions, accomplishments, awards, and major developments all qualify. Space is limited, so please keep submissions to a maximum of six sentences. Photos should be sent in JPEG format. The editor reserves the right to determine what is included.

If you have Marshalltown area news to brag about, submit it to The Digest via email to office@marshalltown.org or via mail to P.O. Box 1000, Marshalltown, IA 50158.

UnityPoint Health partners with student athletes to reduce stillbirths

UnityPoint Health is proud to be the Presenting Sponsor for Every Kick Counts, an initiative of the Count the Kicks public health campaign aimed at teaching expectant parents the importance of monitoring their babies' movements in the third trimester of pregnancy. Every Kick Counts allows student athletes to give back to their communities and do something bigger than themselves by raising funds and awareness to improve birth outcomes. And leaders from both organizations are pleased to announce the partnership in the week leading up to Father's Day.

Athletes who sign up can collect donations for Count the Kicks by receiving pledges for every score, punt, kick or success they have in their game. Every time they succeed, they raise money and potentially save lives. Athletes at all levels can leverage their personal networks and social media profiles to raise awareness for the cause.

The CDC estimates that 23,500 babies in the United States are stillborn each year. This campaign supports UnityPoint Health's efforts to provide expecting individuals with the right care and education to help improve the health of unborn babies. This includes identifying and addressing health inequities in the communities we serve.

Athletes looking to sign up, gather pledges, donate or to learn more, go to EveryKickCounts.com.

Home Federal Bank launches Seed Money campaign

Home Federal Bank is excited to announce that we are giving away $1,000 in cash to at least one unsung hero in the Marshalltown community. This recognition is designed to recognize and reward individuals who are going above and beyond in the Marshalltown community.

Seed Money is a campaign developed as an extension of Home Federal's Community Roots initiative, in which Home Federal finds creative ways to directly support and give back to those who help grow the communities we serve. For this year's campaign we're not talking about Seed Money in the traditional sense which is to help businesses get started. However, Home Federal is looking to give at least 10 individual do-gooders in the communities they serve $1,000 in cash. To help Home Federal select a recipient, community members are encouraged to submit nominations at JustCallHome.com/Nominate or by stopping in the Marshalltown Home Federal branch.
